PRINCIPAL'S UPDATE

Even though it is a short week, there is never a shortage of updates from Hoboken High School. This week students were off for Election Day, so the faculty was able to participate in a professional development day. All sessions were developed and run in house, with administrators, faculty and staff leading action labs and think tanks ranging from authentic literacy to social and emotional well-being. Whenever we are fortunate enough to have the time to collaborate, it proves to be an extremely educational and motivating day. Many thanks to those who participated in my groups, as well as those who ran their own groups. The talent in this building and district is awesome.

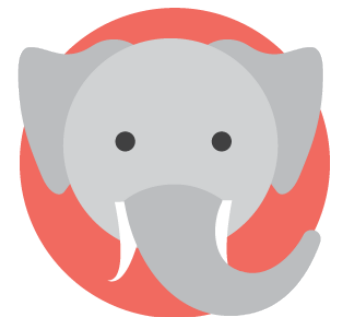

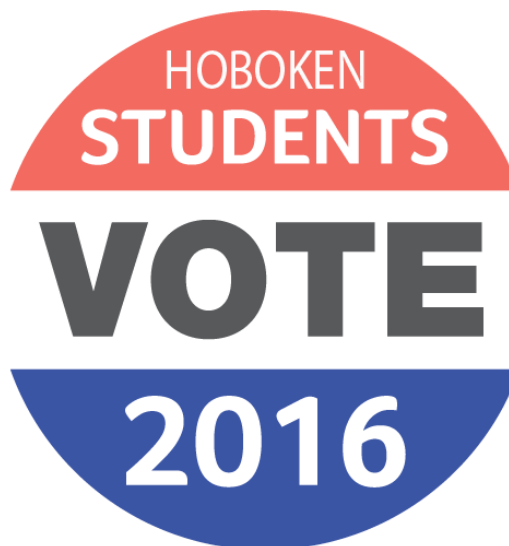

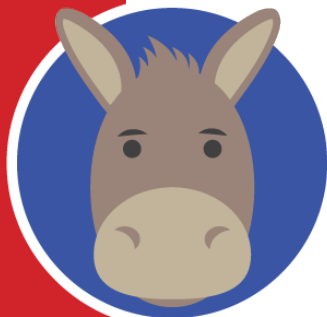

Congratulations to Mr. Munoz and the entire history department on their mock election. Through

Culinary Celebrates Mexican Tradition

For Día de los Muertos (Day of the Dead), Culinary I classes joined forces with Mrs. Cruz's Spanish classes. We created Sugar skulls, a traditional folk art from Southern Mexico used to celebrate the Day of the Dead. Traditionally in Mexico, sugar skulls, marigolds, incense and special foods decorate an ofrenda (altar). Our ofrenda included photos of loved ones, incense and sugar skulls. We learned how to make empanada dough from scratch and made fillings from roasted pork, pulled chicken and house ground beef.

Divina Arias was kind enough to bring in some dried hibiscus flowers so that we were able to make the traditional "Agua de Jamaica"

During Friday's PGP we had a feast with the empanadas that were made during class time, and cookies. Then we washed it all down with a cup of agua de Jamaica. It was a wonderful time to remember the individuals who are no longer with us, surrounded by classmates in a fun and festive environment their history classes, students had the opportunity to cast their vote for president, vice president and also to weigh in on two ballot initiatives. This is just one example of the great hands-on learning that makes our school stand out.

Principal's Update

Remember that school is closed on November 10th and November 11th for NJEA Teachers Convention, and we will be back on November 14th. Enjoy the long weekend!

Wallace School's Buddy Bench

Last week was the dedication ceremony for the buddy bench. Guilanna Hawk and Gabby Ricco painted and decorated the bench for Wallace School last spring. It was a lovely ceremony and the school was very grateful for our help.
